THE PEP

Transport, Health
and Environment
Pan-European Programme

Building forward better by transforming to new, clean, safe, healthy and inclusive mobility and transport

The Transport, Health and Environment Pan-European Programme (THE PEP) – a unique intergovernmental, cross-sectoral, tripartite platform – will bring together ministers and high-level officials from the governments of 56 Member States of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) and the WHO European Region; and representatives of the European Commission; international, intergovernmental and nongovernmental organizations; academia; and other stakeholders active in the field of transport, health and environment to rethink our transport and mobility systems. Participants will reflect on the complex challenges posed by transport for health and the environment, as well as on the opportunities provided by sustainable, healthy and safe transport policies to attain the highest level of health and well-being for all, be part of a healthy recovery from COVID-19, and address the global climate and pollution crises.

The High-level Ministerial Meeting – taking place in a virtual format due to the COVID-19 pandemic – will provide ministers and delegations of Member States, policy-makers and relevant stakeholders with an outstanding opportunity to demonstrate political leadership, share strategies and decide on policy actions – including the launch of new partnerships for clean, safe, healthy, inclusive and resilient transport and mobility for the forthcoming THE PEP decade. As a major outcome of this ministerial event, Member States are expected to adopt the Vienna Ministerial Declaration, including key political decisions on our joint vision and strategies, actions and partnerships, including the first ever Pan-European Master Plan for Cycling Promotion, recommendations on green and healthy sustainable transport for building forward better, and conclusions on sustainable urban mobility and spatial planning.

Virtual side events and exhibitions

Within the framework of the High-level Ministerial Meeting, on 10–12 May, a series of 24 inspiring side events will be offered in the format of webinars or online group discussions. All side events are related to different topics under THE PEP and have been developed in such a way as to create a memorable sharing of experience in a digital environment.

A list of the side events can be found on the official conference website.

Throughout the entire conference week, the online exhibition section will feature short videos, presentation materials and additional information on country showcases and best practices in the fields of transport, health and environment
